GOLF

THE HERITAGE GOLF CLUB

This is adjacent to the Telfair and widely regarded as the best course on the island of Mauritius. The course is hilly and has outstanding vistas of the mountains behind the resort, down to the beach and the Indian Ocean beyond. Many holes have elevation changes, both uphill and downhill with sweeping fairways and the occasional strategically placed water hazard. This is one of those rare courses where no two holes are alike and every hole is challenging but fair.

AVALON GOLF CLUB

We will be playing one round at Avalon which has a rolling layout with lots of changes in elevation that is surrounded on all sides by breath-taking views. To the south is the ocean, look in the opposite direction and you'll get a view of the majestic mountains that surround Grand Bassin – the largest natural lake in Mauritius, which was created by a now-extinct volcano.

The elevated nature of the course means that low clouds and cooler, breezy conditions are often to be expected. This was incorporated into the course's design, with a perfect balance of holes playing both with and against prevailing winds. Whilst there aren't many trees actually on the golf course, numerous tree ferns supplement the local flora and add a soft theme to the unique layout.

LA RESERVE GOLF LINKS

We will be playing two rounds on the newly opened private championship course, exclusive to Heritage Resort guests. The course in effect starts from the side of the Savanne Mountain range in the heights of the Heritage Nature Reserve. It is a links-style course characterised by rolling fairways, menacing bunkers and challenging greens. The golf course has an elevation change of over 180 metres from the first tee to the eighteenth green with golfers wending their way across and down the hillside with spectacular views on every hole. As seen in the photograph below.

The course's co-designers, Major championship winner Louis Oosthuizen and legendary golf course designer Peter Matkovich, are seeking to do justice to its exceptional setting by embracing a philosophy of "listening to the land".

We will have Six Organised Competition Days, three at the Heritage Golf Club, two at La Reserve Links Course and one at Avalon Golf Club.

You will also have unlimited green fees to play at the Heritage on the non-competition days.

Special to Mickey Walker Golf Schools you will have complementary practice balls on all competition and non-competition days; and all rounds will include Golf Buggies, Water, Towels and all buggies are equipped with GPS.
